Appearance Commission Honors Eight Properties

(Fayetteville, N.C. July 23, 2010) –The City-County Joint Appearance Commission recently honored eight properties as part of its second annual Community Appearance Awards Program.

The awards program recognizes properties in Cumberland County that are improving the appearance of the community.

Awards recipients and categories are as follows:

- The 300 Hay Project and Pennmark Place Townhouses, located at the corner of Hay Street and Ray Avenue in downtown Fayetteville, for Best New Residential Property
- Eastover Drug Store, on Dunn Road in Eastover, for Best New Non-Residential Property
- The Faircloth property, located on E. First Street in Stedman, for Best Revitalization of a Residential Property
- The Moore Building, on Williams Street in downtown Fayetteville, for Best Revitalization of a Non-Residential Property
- The Castlefield at Millstone development, located south of Camden Road in Hope Mills, for Best Housing Development or Neighborhood
- The Potter property, on Offshore Drive in Fayetteville, for Best Landscaping Project
- The PWC Customer Service Center, located on Old Wilmington Road in Fayetteville, for Best Green Project
- The House of God Church, located on Southern Avenue in Fayetteville, for Best Restoration of a Historical Property.

The City-County Joint Appearance Commission is made up of members appointed by Cumberland County, the City of Fayetteville and the towns of Eastover, Falcon, Godwin, Hope Mills, Linden, Spring Lake, Stedman and Wade.

The award winners were announced at a ceremony, which was held July 15 in Eastover.
