Board of Elections Is Not Conducting Door-To-Door Survey

FAYETTEVILLE – The Cumberland County Board of Elections is not conducting a door-to-door voter survey. Concerned citizens have reported groups of people claiming to represent the Board of Elections approaching their homes to conduct voter surveys.

“The groups or people conducting this voter survey are in no way affiliated with the Cumberland County Board of Elections,” Director Terri Robertson said. “We do not go door-to-door for any reason.”

The Board of Elections is located at 227 Fountainhead Lane in Fayetteville, in the county’s former health department. For more information about voting, registration or One-Stop Early Voting, contact the Board of Elections at (910) 678-7733 or go online at www.co.cumberland.nc.us/elections.
