FAYETTEVILLE – The Cumberland County Fair kicks off Friday at 3 p.m. and will run through Sept. 14 at the Crown Complex. Tickets are available online at cumberlandcountyfair.org or at the gate.

The fair will feature family fun, games, food, exhibits, fair rides, entertainment and a talent competition. This year's theme is "Country Pride, County Wide."

Tickets are $15 Monday through Thursday and include admission, unlimited rides and entertainment. Weekend ticket prices are $6 for admission with ride tickets and wristbands available separately. Children under 2 are admitted free.

Fair hours are 5 – 11 p.m. Monday through Friday; 1 – 11 p.m. Saturday and 1 – 10 p.m. on Sunday.

Events happening all week include a one-ring circus; interactive petting farm; Farmer for the Day exhibit; camel and pony rides; "Goodness Grows" in North Carolina contest; racing pigs and a wide range of acts performing on the entertainment stage.

"We encourage everyone to come out to this year's fair and spend some time in the Agri-Expo Center where we will have wonderful exhibits promoting our community and our agricultural assets," said Lisa Childers, Cumberland County Cooperative Extension Director.

A detailed schedule for each day is posted on the fair website, cumberlandcountyfair.org.
