FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cumberland County Cooperative Extension will host a Backyard Poultry Class March 4 at 6:30 p.m. at the Agriculture Center, 301 E. Mountain Dr., Fayetteville. The workshop will focus on teaching how to properly care for backyard chickens. The class is for those interested in backyard poultry or those who already have chickens. Dr. Donna Carver, North Carolina State University professor and Cooperative Extension poultry veterinarian, will discuss nutrition basics, parasites, housing, health and overall management.

Registration is required for the workshop. The deadline is Feb. 25 at 5 p.m. To register, please contact Liz Joseph at 910-321-6862 or email elizabeth\_joseph@ncsu.edu.
