Suspected Rabies Case in Cumberland County Raccoon

FAYETTEVILLE - This afternoon the State Public Health Lab in Raleigh reported an “unsatisfactory result” of rabies in Cumberland County. For public health and safety reasons, Animal Control and Public Health officials are treating this as a positive case although test results were inconclusive.

Animal Control picked up a dead raccoon from a residence on Skye Drive located off Devers Street behind Fayetteville Technical Community College on March 12. The residents’ three dogs killed the raccoon on the night of March 11. The raccoon was sent for testing and results came back unsatisfactory. Two of the three dogs were current on their rabies vaccinations; the one dog not vaccinated has been impounded at Animal Control.

This is the third rabies case in the county since January 1.

All pet owners are urged to check the vaccination status of their pets. If pets are not vaccinated or are due for a booster shot, they should be taken to a local veterinarian for rabies vaccination immediately.

The first sign of rabies in animals is a change in behavior. Animals may become aggressive, attacking for no reason, or they may become very quiet. Wild animals can lose their fear of people and act tame. Rabid animals may walk in a circle, drag a leg, or fall over. Some cannot swallow so they are not able to eat or drink and often drool. Animals usually die within a week after first becoming ill.

Avoiding wild animals and keeping your distance from stray dogs and cats is the first step in preventing an animal bite. Any pet, which appears to have been in a fight while outside, should be handled very cautiously and seen by a veterinarian.

If you are bitten or scratched by an animal:

- Immediately wash the wound under running water for at least 10 minutes with lots of soap. Seek medical attention/advice.
- Call Animal Control at 321-6852 Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Call the Sheriff’s Office at 323-1500 after 5 p.m., weekends and holidays.
- Go to the emergency room.

It is also important to vaccinate your pets for rabies and keep their shots current. Pet owners are reminded that all dogs and cats must be vaccinated against rabies, as required by state law. Pet owners are subject to a fine of $100 for each unvaccinated dog or cat. Pets must be vaccinated when they reach the age of four months.

Starting March 31, rabies vaccination clinics for dogs and cats will be held every Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. until April 23. A total of 16 clinics at different sites throughout the county are scheduled. The cost is $10 per animal.
